Sensitising youth towards old age, orphans and disabled.

Sensitising youth towards old age, orphans and disabled is very important. We live in India and it is our culture to respect our elders and look after the orphans and the disabled. Several NGO's have taken charge in looking after the elderly people and the orphans. But it is our duty to inculcate it in our daily life and behavior. This can be done from our childhood so that when a child grows up he is mature enough to look after the elders and the disabled.

Ramgarh College is situated in a semi urban locality. Students from various background come in our college for education. Mostly students coming in this college come from joint family. But some of them are from nuclear family also. Therefore, it is the duty of the college to sensitise the youth towards the old, orphans and the disabled.

In Ramgarh College various programs are organised for the youth in this matter so that they can help in the development of the country and in nation building. Various seminars and lectures are organised by the college and different departments to sensitise the youth. Our college is connected with Divine Onkar where our students visit regularly and look after the elderly people and the orphans. Various camps are organised and voluntary donations are collected which is donated to the various organisations and NGOs. During the festive seasons blanket, food packets, clothes are distributed among the needy. Medicines are also distributed to the poor and the orphans.

Through these various drives and programme our college tries to inculcate sensitivity towards the old, orphans and the disabled. This promotes the spirit of nation building in the youth. They learn from the old people who were once the backbone of the country. It also helps in building the personality of the students through whose contribution the country will progress in the future. Our college has taken a great step for the betterment of the entire society which is the hallmark of the developing economy. We are living in the modern age with different types of obstacles. Youth are mainly engaged with their smart phone and other nonproductive activities.

Therefore, to draw away the attention from this it is important to sensitise the youth. Interaction with the elderly people has many advantages. They share their experience, their emotion, affection and love for the younger generation. In the materialistic world of today the guidance of the elders help to cope up with the tense situation prevailing in the society. Therefore, interaction with the experienced help in the overall development of student's personality, society and the country.

Regional language and folk culture forum

India is known for its diversity and multiplicity of languages. Language speaks to our soul and even if our languages are different the intensity of emotion remains the same. Language has the power to transcend borders that divide.

The language of a society is the bedrock of society. Tribal literature is the creative energy generated at the national level to protect tribal identity and existence, exploitation due to economic liberalization. Ramgarh College is a semi urban institution and the majority of the students belong to SC, ST and OBC class. The educational environment in Ramgarh College promotes tolerance and understanding above and beyond our political cultural and religious differences. We emphasis on human rights, protection of ethnic minority and conservation of the environment. Tribal literature is the literature of a search for identity. Disappearance of dialect results in abolition of folk culture and inherent knowledge in that dialect. The demise of a folk language results not only in the disappearance of a language but also in the deprivation of complete culture.

Now-a-day dialects are on the brink of disappearance. Our folk traditions and culture are in peril due to western culture and urban fascination. We will lose our identity soon if we do not endeavor to shield our folk traditions and culture.

Keeping in view the protection, enrichment and development of our language/dialect and folk culture, the regional language and folk culture forum has been set up in the college. The forum aims at fostering creative skill in students. They can really contribute to their society and folk culture when they create in their own language/ dialect.

The forum will inspire, encourage and make people conscious of amalgamation and diffusion of folk tales, folklores, maxims and sayings, adages.

Every language has knowledge related to environment. If a language/dialect dies, that valuable wealth, too, ends.

We have to attempt to impart a new direction to society for the protection, enrichment and development of the local language.

Civilization in big towns and metropolitan cities is increasing rapidly. The life style in metros has become mechanical. Now even small towns and villages are also affected by monotony born due to rapid industrialization. Now society is focused on individual. Consequently traits like togetherness, mutual understanding, tolerance and harmony are on the wane.

In the circumstances, our forum will play a vital role in promoting love, harmony, amity and mutual understanding in society. This forum instills self-confidence in the students of Ramgarh College. The spirit of belongingness encourages students to deal with problems that come in their path.
